Westphal, pioneer Oakland miller, and heir to a considerable fortune, is in the city prison in Berkeley awaiting certification to the juvenile court as one of three youthful bandits jailed after they had, according to charges against them, held up Jack Pine, a high school student, at Hillegass avenue and Russell street, in the college city.

The youth is the son of Mrs. J. C. Westphal Jr., 1175 East Thirty-seventh street, this city. His father was one of the principal heirs under the will of the late milling magnate.

Oakland and Bay Region Feel Breath of Southeaster

Oakland felt one of the heaviest gales in several years last night when a wind of 21 miles an hour swept the city. Captain Hansen and His Men Reported at Bolinas

Craft Smashed in Heavy Seas Is Total Loss

BULLETIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Captain Hansen and the 11 men of his crew came ashore at low tide today from the schooner Polaris, which is aground under the bluff at Point Bolinas.

Captain Hansen told the Associated Press over the long distance telephone that he thought there was no salvation for his vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The schooner Polaris, with a crew of 15, went on Duxbury reef, just outside the Golden Gate, this morning and is reported in grave danger. The United States tug Itasca and boats from the life-saving station are speeding to the assistance of the distressed vessel.

The Polaris left port yesterday afternoon for Eureka in tow of the steamer Wilmington. Outside the heads, in the neighborhood of the Potato Patch, the schooner broke.

EAST SIDE NATURAL HARBOR

Berlin Expert Says Business of Bay Should Be Here

Money Wasted in Transferring Shipments, He Declares

HAGEMANN'S VIEWS

EAST SIDE LOGICAL

(From first chapter of Dr. Werner Hagemann's report on city planning of Oakland and Berkeley, to be included in reports to both cities, now in preparation.)

The logical site for the great commercial and manufacturing metropolis of San Francisco bay is opposite San Francisco, where Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond are building on shores so favorably situated.

A conservatively computed estimate shows that the population of the bay region may be expected to reach one million by 1920 and two millions by 1950, and that about one-half of this population may live on the east side of the bay.

The labor bestowed upon San Francisco has been expended on the east side of the bay, we should today have a city of palaces.

A state of affairs requiring a wasteful and unnecessary transshipment by ferry of two and a half million tons a year from San Francisco alone can be understood only as a curiosity of a prehistoric age.

That is, a pre-railway age. The further development of the bay region inevitably must emphasize the natural advantages of the east side of the bay as the point where ship and railroad meet.

Outlining the wonderful advantages of the continental side of San Francisco bay and predicting for it in the future marvelous advancement in commercial and other lines, Dr. Werner Hagemann, the noted Berlin city planning expert, now living at the Faculty Club, has completed the first chapter of the report he will submit to Oakland and Berkeley. This introductory chapter will be identical in the two reports; subsequent chapters will differ.

Dr. Hagemann declares the original planning of the metropolis for the west side of the bay was illogical and in error. He finds in the advantages of this side all possible promises for the industrial future. He points out the present waste in transshipment of goods across the bay. He predicts a growth in population to 2,000,000 for the bay section by 1950, and that at least 1,000,000 of these will be residents of the east bay shore.

EARLY PREDICTION.
"As early as 1847," writes Dr. Hagemann, "the pioneer settlers and the first United States army and navy officers, first sent to California, recognized that the great city of the future—the city which it was hoped would become the

Paderewski Refuses to Explain Illness

Paderewski, the pianist, arrived in Oakland on his special car this morning and remained just long enough for a change of engines, starting immediately for Paso Robles, where he intends to stay some time in an effort to regain his health.

After canceling all engagements the pianist arrived this morning to meet his manager, Will L. Greenbaum, who boarded the train and at once left for the resort.

ENGLISH CAPITAL FIGURES IN DEAL, LATEST RUMORS

Detroit Financiers Bring About Change in Affairs of the United Properties

Entire Holdings of Local Corporation Are Well Up in the Millions

THE vast holdings of the United Properties Company in Alameda county were sold today to a British syndicate. The actual amount of money changing hands will be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000, according to those who represent the English buyers. The deal was put through here largely by George C. Moore of Detroit, who represents large English money, and by B. Fitzgerald, one of the British capitalists, who subscribed to a large amount of the stock.

It only remains for a number of signatures to be obtained which have been promised already, it is understood, before the actual sale will have been accomplished.

The United Properties Company is practically sold at the present moment. The importance of the deal to Alameda county cannot be realized. It will mean the expenditure immediately of millions of dollars for improvements.

The holdings of the United Properties Company, including the Key Route, the Oakland Traction Company, the Realty Syndicate, the Bay Cities Water Company and other lesser concerns are valued in the aggregate at approximately $200,000,000.

The trustees of the United Properties Company, W. A. Biebol, Vanderlin Stowe, J. K. Moffitt, Gavin McNab and W. I. Brobeck, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and the final arrangements were completed.

"I believe that any announcement that an agreement has been reached to dispose of the United Properties is premature at this time," said Louis Bennett, secretary to F. M. Smith. "Of course there are negotiations. The trustees met yesterday and these matters were doubtless discussed, but I am not aware that any statement is to be made today and I have not been informed of any deal having been put through. I certainly think I should know if there had been any developments of that character. There is nothing new in the fact that negotiations are on regarding the disposal of the property. That is a matter of common knowledge, but as to a sale being made, I will say that I have not heard of it."

Bennett declared further that F. M. Smith, with whom he was luncheon at the Palace Hotel when interviewed, had not been told of the sale if any had been made.

MYSTERIOUS AUTOS SOUGHT BY POLICE

Chinese Smuggled From Wrecked Calypso in Machines

Two limousines, containing a number of Chinese, and believed to be used in smuggling a quantity of opium or in getting some Chinese safely hidden from the immigration authorities, are being sought by the police of the bay region and of the cities between here and Monterey. It is thought that the two machines and their strange appearance on the road leading from Monterey in the dead of night may have had some connection with the rescue of fugitives from the wreck of the Calypso off the coast of Monterey.

Descriptions of the two automobiles have been telegraphed to all the cities along the coast and in the bay region. Every effort is being made to round up the vehicles.

Automobile drivers on the road this side of Monterey encountered the two black limousines stealing along the road with lights out. By the light from their own automobiles the chauffeurs who brought the information to the police saw that the mysterious autos contained a number of Chinese, and that when the Chinese instructed their drivers to put on speed. The autos disappeared on the road leading northward. They were not reported since. The Oakland police were notified today to look for the machines on the roads leading to this city.

WINS DIVORCE SUIT AGAINST H. A. LANE

Wife of Oakland Clubman Granted Interlocutory Decree

Mrs. Mabel L. Lane, daughter of Attorney George W. Reed, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce today from Harry A. Lane, graduate of the University of California and well-known clubman. It was while Lane was in Los Angeles in charge of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce exhibit that his wife dropped into a cafe with a relative one evening and says she was surprised to see her husband enter and take a seat at a table. When she returned home she commenced suit for divorce. By a stipulation entered into between Attorney Emil Nusbaumer, representing Mrs. Lane, and Attorney J. J. Rose, appearing for the defendant, the case was tried before Superior Judge Donahue this morning. The testimony was brief and dealt principally with the Los Angeles episode. Lane was a member of the class of 1907 at the university. The couple were married six years ago.

EXPERT DECLARES FOR EAST SIDE

Dr. Hageman of Berlin Says Harbor City Should Be at Oakland and Berkeley.

"New York of the Pacific" was not to be located on the west side, (the present site of San Francisco) but on the east, that is, the land side of San Francisco Bay.

Very curious, the situation as described in the middle of the nineteenth century by General Sherman, still prevails. As, in the days of the pioneers, all vessels bound for San Francisco had to anchor in the middle of the bay, and the cargo was landed by long piers extending from the shore.

NATATORIUM PLAN DIVIDES COUNCIL

Alameda May Circulate Initiative Petition to Ballot on

ALAMEDA, Jan. 17.—The municipal natatorium project, as far as the committee of the whole of the city council is concerned, is just where it was yesterday, prior to last night's meeting of the body. The request of representative of the citizens' central committee, who stated nor denied. Nor was the adverse report of the special committee adopted or turned down. There was eight councilmen present, Councilman William H. Hammond Jr. being the only member absent. Four were for asking the committee to report and four were opposed. Four voted for giving the citizens' central committee further time and four were opposed.

Councilmen Bartlett, Bullock, Froese and Roth favored the adoption of the report and voted against giving the matter to a special council committee.

Councilmen Morgenstern, Stewart, MacRae and Morris opposed the adoption of the report, and favored the re-formation of the city council.

Council President Fred W. Morgenstern ruled, after the two votes had been PROFIT NO CONSIDERATION.

Fish said that this had not been his first consideration, the project being a public one, and that profit was not a determining factor, regardless of profit. He stated that the schools are not operated at a deficit.

Councilman Bartlett said he wanted to know.

He declared that the committee of the council had studied the project and had found that it would be operated at a loss.

Mrs. H. J. Platts favored the project, saying that the children want the natatorium to learn to swim and for recreational purposes.

Mrs. J. M. Allen said that educational and recreational projects such as the natatorium should be encouraged, not only from a financial point, but from the point to be derived by the residents.

A. A. BarotEAU told of the great success of the early days.

Leo Robinson urged that a debate be held. He said that he favored the use of the waste salt water at one time, but that he had subsequently heard that the water is not sufficiently heated. He suggested that the council invite bids from private parties for using the waste water.

Councilman Bullock then moved the adoption of the report and he was seconded by Councilman Bartlett.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The first woman's grand jury in California has not proved a success, in the opinion of Judge George H. Buck of San Mateo county, who discharged the jury yesterday after it had submitted a final report in which it made accusations against several county officials.

The jury, eleven of whose members are women, was scored by the court for having accusations on which it was termed "trivial matters." The officials involved were County Auditor William H. Underhill, who drew the "severest" reprimand for his system of transferring accounts, and County Recorder H. O. The jurors, the court held, were not competent to bring accusations directed against office methods with which they were unfamiliar.

JUDGES NAMED FOR BAIRD TRIAL

Minister to Face Board and Answer Charges of Impropriety.

Woodland, Jan. 17.—The Rev. E. J. Baird named the following five churchmen who will sit as jurors in the Episcopal Canonical trial at which the vestrymen of St. Luke's will endeavor to unmask the pastor: Rev. I. E. Baxter, Napa; Rev. They were chosen from a list of twelve given by bishop W. H. Mortenson of the Sacramento diocese. The three general charges against the minister are:

First, that Baird ignored the findings of the standing committee; second, that Baird had acted in a manner unbecoming an Episcopal clergyman; third, that Baird had broken his ordination vows of obedience.

The question of whether Baird be deprived of his right to serve as an Episcopal minister will be settled in sequential order by the diocesan committee.

The last storm brought a rush of water down the avenues which led from the boulevard flooding the gardens of several of the residents.

A choked sewer caused flooding on Alvarado street but a force of men under Marshal Joseph Peralta flushed the sewer clear with a hose. HE PRAISES LAW-- UNTIL HE PAYS

Chester Rowell Upholds Auto Tax, But Kicks at His Own Bill.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—After two months of urging others to pay the new automobile tax promptly, charging that opposition to the law is unjust, and declaring its belief in the constitutionality of the measure, Chester Rowell of Fresno yesterday paid taxes of $35 on eight machines, accompanied by a letter of protest that would make attorneys opposing the new law gasp with admiration. Editorially, Rowell has been eulogizing the new automobile law, upholding those who have failed to pay promptly, and generally "lambsasting" persons who were skeptical about the measure's constitutionality. His charges now include: The provisions of the law are unconstitutional because they are oppressive, partial, unreasonable and do not apply to all owners of vehicles; that the law constitutes a deprivation of property without due process of law and tends to restrain untrammeled exercise of the liberty of an individual.

The father tried to intervene, but it was too late, and as Martin sank to the floor cried: "The child did not mean it." The dying man smiled and drifted into unconsciousness.

BURNETT BILL WOULD CAUSE LABOR SCARCITY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Passage of the Burnett immigration bill, now before Congress, would result in a speedy scarcity of manual laborers in this country, in the opinion of a number of speakers who addressed a meeting of prominent Americans held here last night for the purpose of forming an Italian section of the National Liberal Immigration League. A committee was elected to name a delegation which, in co-operation with leading from other nationalities, to ask Congress not to pass the Burnett bill.

Drink Hot Tea FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Dried Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee" at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, loosening and forcing out the mucus from the throat. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

THE most important social dates of the week were the two bridge afternoons given on Thursday and Friday at the home of Mrs. Remi Chabot on Perry street. The Chabots represent one of the pioneer families of our city and their name stands for much that has meant progress and a generous care for others. Many of the utilities of the city were due in early days to the foresight of the Chabots, and to their generosity, and the spirit of abounding hospitality has Friends are always so welcome that very few regrets for their social affairs ever reach Mrs. Chabot or her daughters. The hostesses of the bridge parties were Mrs. James P. H. Dunn and Mrs. Leon Bocqueraz, who were assisted in receiving their guests by their mother, Mrs. Remi Chabot, and their sisters Mrs. John Henry Dieckmann and Mrs. Robert Knight. The home of the Chabots on Perry street is one of the most attractive in the city. It is a splendid specimen of French architecture, and in the great drawing-room are many works of art—lovely pictures and fine statuary brought from abroad—as Mrs. Chabot and her daughters have been to Europe several times.

Over eighty guests played bridge in the drawing-room and a large number of friends called later in the afternoon, for even a heavy storm was unable to keep away the old-time friends of the family, who brought affectionate greetings to Mrs. Chabot and her daughters.

Mrs. Chabot received the many guests invited to the bridge afternoons in the large hall of the home, and there were representatives from nearly all the prominent families on this side of the bay. Many San Francisco guests motoring over were late in arriving, the boat having been held up by the storm which began to rage early in the day.

On Thursday the younger matrons and young girls, the special friends of Mrs. Leon Bocqueraz (Claire Chabot) were entertained, and on Friday the older friends of the family were made welcome by Mrs. Chabot and her daughters.

There is no better loved woman on this side of the bay than Mrs. Chabot, her abounding, great-hearted generosity bringing to her the love of many, and she is so clever and so well read that in her home one finds also an intellectual atmosphere worthy of any salon, and that is most charming.

Oakland is old enough now to boast of its old families, which are, of course, no better than many of the newer families, but which have ties in common, which have lived out many days together, and thus have forged and cemented old friendships, which are rare things in the social development of a city. And these friendships are part of an atmosphere in a social gathering, and one of the fascinating things in the afternoons given by members of the Chabot family was the fact that many mutual friends were assembled under their roof. Mrs. Chabot was beautifully gowned in black with wonderful old lace, and Mrs. James P. H. Dunn (Kate Chabot) was a perfectly stunning study, in a magnificent costume of soft satin, with a lovely sheen upon it and in beautiful color tones of purple. A great cluster of orchids added lovely color tones to one of the most striking and most effective gowns seen here this season. Mrs. Dunn is a very stately figure and she was very handsome, indeed, in this gorgeous costume.

Mrs. Leon Bocqueraz has always been regarded as one of the fine types of classical beauty on this side of the bay. She looked lovely, indeed, in a gown of old rose satin, elaborately trimmed in rare lace.

Mrs. Robert Knight came from her Los Gatos home to assist at the bridge parties, and she is so popular with her friends that a warm welcome awaits her always, even though she comes to town often and is as much as ever part of our social world.

Mrs. John H. Dieckmann (Josephine Chabot) was charming in a gown of deep rose red satin trimmed in point lace, the color tones very becoming to her brunette type of beauty.

Among the late callers was Mrs. Isaac Requa, who wore a very handsome reception gown of purple brocade, with a handsome coat of black and elaborate furs. Mrs. Chabot and Mrs. Requa have worked together in Fabiola affairs for many years and much good has rewarded their generous efforts. Very elaborate refreshments were served in the large dining-room of the home and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. James

Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, the popular president of the Home Club, was among the early arrivals, and among the very good bridge players of the afternoon were Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. Minor Goodall and Mrs. Harry Knowles.

Mrs. N. A. Acker and Mrs. James Allen were very happy receiving congratulations on the engagements just announced in their respective families, and among the guests from across the bay were Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham and Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld.

Mrs. Wickham Havens was very stunning, indeed, in a lovely gown of light brown satin, in the new tones which are so wonderfully becoming. Among the guests arriving late in the afternoon for the tea were Mrs. Edward Remillard, Mrs. F. M. Smith among those which called out special attention were the ones worn by Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Mable Cousins, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Isaac Hyde, Mrs. George Bodolph, Mrs. Charles E. The afternoons were among the most important affairs on our side of the bay and they afforded delightful reunions for many mutual friends.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Marian Stoddard, whose picture appears today, is among the brides-to-be of the season, her betrothal to Ernest Ambrose Richards of North Berkeley having been announced recently.

Mrs. John McNear is a popular hostess, entertaining at informal luncheons and bridge parties.

Miss Helen Jones is a frequent visitor in Oakland, where she takes a prominent part in the affairs of the younger set. She was recently a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear.

Miss Marie Whiting has been very seriously ill at the Fabiola hospital,

She made her debut this winter and has been the motif for many delightful affairs on both sides of the bay.

WINTER AND VANITY FAIR ARE WITH US.

There have been big charity entertainments, all bringing financial returns big enough to sadden the hearts of energetic "lady managers," and there have been smaller dates innumerable and successful.

Truly, it seems as if Dame Fortune smiled happily on any social affair given in the environment of lucky Hotel Oakland.

So the "danzants," when they are

And it may be mentioned that they have kept their dancing up to a high standard of excellence.

Among the patronesses were Mrs. Wickham Havens and Mrs. Harris Capwell. Mrs. Havens is also one of the popular patronesses of the dances at the Palace, and Mrs. Capwell is a member of the dansants at both the Palace and the St. Francis.

Mrs. William Thornton White was a patroness at the dansant given on Thursday at the St. Francis. As San Francisco has included so many of our leading families in its guest lists, dansants, and as some of our popular matrons have been asked to be patronesses, it would surely be in order for ST. FRANCIS DANCING CARDS TAKEN UP; SURPRISE.

To the surprise of everyone, the cards of admission to the St. Francis dansants were all taken up at the end of the year. They were originally issued for the entire season and the members were allowed to invite guests, and there was no restriction as to the limit or from what cities the guests came.

A host or hostess presented a membership card and they were supposed to be responsible for the guests. And he it said to the credit of everybody, people lived up to the standard expected of them. In only a few instances were guests present against whom any complaint could be made, and it was quietly intimated that their presence would not be again desired.

So it came as a surprise to the many members of the dansants at the St. Francis for all the cards to be recalled in December, members being informed that new cards would be issued. And that is the last some of last year's members ever saw of their cards.

The new cards arriving for members the first of the year from the St. Francis promulgate stringent rules. Members may invite only out-of-town guests. Under last year's rules, a member could invite anyone she chose and as many guests as she pleased, and quite often the guests paid their own way, so the dansants could not be considered to be on the ultra-exclusive list.

All that is changed. The list has been carefully revised, the cards sent guests must present the names to the secretary no later than the morning of the day of the dance. So the St. Francis dansants have been reorganized on a very strict basis of exclusiveness. Maurice dances at the St. Francis, and almost all the Burlingame set, led by the Crockers, are true to the St. Francis and are generally in evidence there on Monday afternoons. The hours of the dansant are from 4 to 7 and these hours are strictly kept.

The "dansants" at the Palace Hotel are given on Saturday afternoons.

crowded affairs. One must reserve a table long before Saturday if one has guests to entertain. Nothing is said on the invitations in regard to one's guests, so the membership card admits a host and the friends whom he wishes to entertain. Among the patronesses is Mrs. Wickham Haven, and a more popular young matron it would be difficult to find on either side of the bay. She is always an attractive hostess, and her gowns are both artistic and effective, measuring up well with the lovely Parisian gowns that one sees at the dansants across the bay.

Mrs. Frederick Sharon is always most beautifully gowned. She has wonderful jewels and always wears them with extreme good taste. One often sees her with her attractive nieces from this side of the bay, Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, Mrs. Harry Farr and the Misses Ruth and Esther Sharon, "the beautiful Sharon girls" as they are often called. Another patroness is Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt, who was formerly popular Kate Clement of this city. Mrs. Charles Mills Gayley represents Berkeley, and her debutante daughter, Miss Mary Gayley, often entertains guests.

Mrs. Egbert Stone is a patroness of the Palace dansants and she dances quite as often and as well as her daughters, who entertain extensively at the tea dances.

An innovation in the patroness list appears in the Palace dansant invitations. Four popular young girls are on the list, the Misses Lena Blanding, Louise Boyd, August Foutte and Marian Zeile.

DANSANT KEYNOTE IS DEMOCRACY.

But it must be remembered in planning dansants that their democratic element is their greatest charm. Everybody goes, everybody dances. Their origin must not be forgotten.

MRS. JOHN MCNEAR, A FREQUENT HOSTESS AT INFORMAL AFFAIRS.—George Fraser Photo.

dansant is its informality. It is also not expensive. When it is made formal, when it is made expensive; when it becomes too exclusive, it is no longer a dansant, full of the joy of living, of the exuberance and enthusiasm of life. It becomes a deadly bore, and the men do not care to go; it becomes just the old "dancing party," which men took infinite care to shun and from which often "the best people" were conspicuous by their absence. One finds them every time in the heart of things at a real dansant.

DR. AND MRS. WAKEFIELD ENTERTAIN AT DANCE.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Wakefield are among the prominent people across the bay who are entertaining by way of dancing this season. Dr. and Mrs.

dance they gave last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Van Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weaver.

Bright letters arrive from Mr. Fred Greenwood, who is abroad, and who is eagerly awaiting the arrival of his relatives, the George Greenwoods, whom he will meet in Cairo. They are all going up the Nile together and many plans are made for their stay in Cairo. Mr. Greenwood has taken a country place in Dover, England, and the Greenwood family will spend part of the summer there. Dover is very gay in the season, and pretty Suzette Greenwood bids fair to be very popular among the English friends she will make abroad.

The Californians whose homes are

Crawford and Mrs. Vincent, who was formerly Maud Bourne of San Francisco, Mrs. Crawford was formerly Miss Mary MacDermot, the eldest daughter of Mrs. Charles MacDermot of this city. She is very fascinating and one of the most stunning of the Americans who are often to be seen in exclusive circles in London and Paris. The Crawfords have a lovely home in Sussex and they are very fond of English country life.

The home of the Vincents represents a most historic old place in Ireland, "Muckross Abbey," and much has been done by the bright California girl to add to its interest and its picturesqueness. The Vincents spend a great deal of time with their daughter and are greatly charmed with life abroad.

Mrs. Edgar Painter is to take her daughter, pretty Pauline Painter, abroad, and they also will be in England for part of the summer.

It must be remembered that the English country season does not correspond to ours. It begins in May, and the late winter and early spring months abroad. They will be accompanied by their son, and in Chicago they will be joined by Mrs. Heron's niece, Miss Eleanor Parker, who will accompany them abroad. Dudley Heron will enter the University of California on the return of the family from Europe. The Vincents will be among the Americans who will be in London during the spring.

Among winter travelers are the Maurice Sullivans, who sailed for Honolulu last week, and who took with them their motor car, having planned delightful expeditions in the islands. Mrs. Sullivan was formerly Miss Gladys Wilson of this city, and she is now one of the most popular of the younger hostesses across the bay. The Sullivans are chaperoning a party of bright young girls, among whom are Miss Metha McMahon and Miss Franc Pierce. The Misses Mildred and Franc Pierce are among the graduates of the Horton school and of Wellesley, and many of their most intimate girl friends are on this side of the bay.

Among the popular girls who may be out of town for part of the season is Miss Ernestine McNear, who has been invited to go to St. Louis to be maid of honor at the coming wedding of Miss Marian Turner and Wooster Lambert.

Miss McNear and Miss Turner are warm friends. The friendship commenced in school days has deepened and Miss Turner was Miss McNear's guest here two years ago. She made many friends, being an exceptionally charming girl and she was extensively entertained.

Besides being very rich, Mr. Lambert is very clever and is one of the best-known young men in St. Louis, and the wedding of Mr. Wooster and ant events of the year in that city.

Mrs. Hearst has been expecting a visit from the William Randolph Hearsts this winter, and February was settled for the date of their arrival at the Hacienda. But the William Hearsts have decided to defer their visit and have gone for a ten days' sojourn in Canada. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamilton and their daughter, Helen. The latter made her debut in New York and a delightful Mexican costume dance was given her by the Hearsts. Miss Hamilton is a granddaughter of the late Judge Noble Hamilton, whose home was for many years on Jackson street.

DANSANT GIVEN ON BOARD BATTLESHIP.

A delightful dansant was given last Saturday on board the battleship California, which was en fete for the occasion. The party of young people were chaperoned by Lieutenant and Mrs. Rees (Jennie Lee), who are very popular in navy circles and who entertain extensively in their home on Yerba Buena island. The music on board the big ships is always inspiring and fascinating, and adds a delightful element to a dansant.

The young people were most enthusiastic over the good time on the California, and among the guests chaperoned by Mrs. Rees and Mrs. Robert Hayes Smith were: Miss Anne Peters, Miss Helen Nicol, Miss Carmen Ghirardelli, Miss Helen Hinchley, Miss Marian Stone, Miss Elvira Melin, Dudley Valentine, Dan Volkmann and Count Montgelas.

One of the earliest of the February dates will be the wedding of Mr. Leland Scott and Miss Marie McHenry, which is scheduled to take place on the evening of February 10. The bride-elect has decided on a church wedding, and the marriage will take place in Plymouth Congregational church, with Rev. Albert Palmer as the officiating clergyman. There will be a reception afterwards at the bride's home at Piedmont. Miss McHenry has announced her wedding attendants and the maid of honor is to be Miss Myra Hall. The bridesmaids will be Miss Lilla Lovell, Miss Cleo Posey, Miss Juliet Perrin and Miss Margaret Weber of Portland, Me. Miss Mary, who will be the flower girl.

This will be the first of a series of important weddings scheduled for the coming spring.

HUNTINGTONS WILL SOON BE IN PASADENA HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Huntington, (Mrs. C. P. Huntington), are on their way home, and great preparations are being made for their arrival in the beautiful Huntington place near Pasadena. Mrs. Huntington has not cared very much for California of late years, coming back to it only at long intervals and for a brief stay. She has cared very little for society, and in spite of her great wealth, she has never been identified with any of New York's social sets—even though her home in New York was directly across the way from Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr. Mrs. Huntington bought the famous Elysée Palace in Paris, some years ago, and that has been her home for a part of each year. Her friends are wondering if she will be contented in quiet Pasadena, after life in the larger cities in which she has spent so many years.

The Huntington home in Pasadena is remarkable chiefly for its magnificent pictures, in the purchase of which millions of dollars have been spent. They are mainly originals of the best known portrait painters of England and they include magnificent Gainsboroughs.

Two of Henry Huntington's pictures, which he loaned for an exhibition in New York, are creating a great sensation. They are "The Petre" a portrait by Sir Thomas Gainsborough, and another portrait, "Viscountess Clifden, and her Sister, Lady Elizabeth Spencer," by George Romney.

Mrs. Huntington's nephew, Archer Huntington, is an enthusiast in Spanish works of art and literature, and he has one of the finest Spanish libraries in the world.

Mrs. Huntington will be entertained by old-time friends when she returns to make her home in California, and among her life-long friends are Mrs. Isaac Requa and Mrs. A. N. Towne.

FOUR PERISH IN APARTMENT FIRE

VICTIMS CUT OFF FROM ESCAPE LOUNGE

Five Injured at Brockton, Mass., Blaze; Many Are Rescued

Fire Chief Almost Submerged at Nashville Conflagration

BROCKTON, Mass., Jan. 17.—While firemen battled with the flames and succeeded in rescuing a score or more of the inmates, four were killed and five injured in an early morning apartment house fire here, which partly gutted one of the large buildings of this city. The cause of the fire has not been discovered. When the firemen arrived the lower part of the building was a sheet of flames and many residents in the upper portions were cut off from escape. Ladders were placed to the windows and many of the imprisoned lodgers were thus brought to safety. Those killed were cut off from escape on an upper floor. Those burned were taken to a hospital and it is not believed that any will die. The apartment house was one of the fashionable dwelling places of the city.

$100,000 CANDY PLANT BURNS. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17.—One man was injured, perhaps fatally, and A. A. Rosetta, fire chief, was nearly drowned last night when fire destroyed the $100,000 plant of the Standard Candy Company. C. W. Baker, a salesman, watched the blaze from an adjoining wood shed, and through a skylight to a cement court. Rosetta plunged through the floor of the burning building into a basement filled with water. A fireman swam to him and pulled him out as he was sinking.

Not to Investigate Michigan Strikes

Republicans of the entire committee, but the Democratic majority, in private conference, voted that no investigation resolution be presented.

AWAITS FELONY WARRANT FOR CRIME IN PORTLAND

HARRY FRAYNOR, an ex-convict and said by the police to be a bank robber, arrested with several others suspected of being confidence men and pickpockets, will be charged with a felony on a warrant from Portland, Ore. The other men arrested are being held on the small book pending investigation, and will probably be charged with vagrancy, unless more serious charges can be placed against them.

The eight men were arrested in the round-up of suspicious characters which has been ordered by Captain of Inspectors Lou Agnew. Inspectors Green and Gallagher arrested four of the men at Twelfth and Franklin streets and Inspectors Hodgkins and Robinson arrested the other quartet at Eighth and Clay.

All the men have previous records, according to the police. The men arrested were Harry Fraynor, Mark Rice, James Carter, Nicholas Allen, Edmund Allen, E. S. Claybourne, E. E. Bernhard and Harry Price.

AGED OAKLAND CITY EMPLOYEE PASSES AWAY

George W. Lawton, an aged resident of Oakland and employee of the city, died suddenly last night at his home, 474 Seventeenth street. The body was found by members of his family this morning and was removed to the morgue. Lawton was a brother of John Lawton, former fire chief of Oakland. Heart trouble was the cause of the trouble. Lawton was a native of New York, 65 years of age. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

GOVERNOR GLYNN SEES NO UNIVERSAL PEACE

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The morning of universal peace has not arrived, Governor Glynn asserted in an address last night at the annual dinner of the National Guard Association. He hoped for universal peace, he said, but expressed the belief that world powers were not prepared to relinquish war as a means of settling disputes. Accordingly he urged greater support of the national guard among young men eligible to membership.

Popular Belle Is Wedded
Miss Daniels Now Mrs. Black

MRS. FRED BLACK, WHO BEFORE HER MARRIAGE, LAST NIGHT, WAS MISS VERA DANIELS.

MIRA VISTA IS SCENE OF BEAUTY

Pink Predominates in Settings for Fashionable Function

The Mira Vista home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Daniels was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening, when Miss Vera Daniels became the bride of Frederick Black. Pink was the color of the decorations throughout the house, a profusion of carnations and trailing vines producing a most attractive effect.

In the drawing-room, where the ceremony took place, the mantel was banked in carnations and greens and the bride's party stood before it while Rev. Albert W. Palmer read the marriage service.

An aisle was formed from the stairway to the drawing-room, the ribbon-bearers being the little sons of the bride's sister, Mrs. Douglas Talbot—Douglas and Hayden Talbot. Miss Eloise Cushing and Jack Thompson held the ribbons at the stairway.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gown in white, her hair was styled in a chignon and she wore an orchid in her hair. Her bouquet was a magnificent shower of lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Douglas Talbot and Mrs. Alice Ashcom, the former in pale pink brocade with satin, with a tunic of lace. Mrs. Ashcom's dress, which was made in the same style, was of lavender brocade. Both bridesmaids wore honor carried showers of pink roses. Harry Thompson was his brother's best man.

Mrs. G. B. Daniels, the mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of champagne in the orchid shade, and Mrs. George S. Daniels was also in lavender, champagne, her costume being unusually distinctive through its overspread of Oriental embroidery.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining-room, where the tables were decorated with pink carnations. Flickers were seated at the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Black are spending their honeymoon in the southern part of the state. They will return here for a brief visit before leaving for Winder, Nevada, where they will make their home.

Black is engaged in mining in Nevada. He is a graduate of the State University, where he was identified with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He is a member of a prominent family of Santa Cruz.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE ENDS WITH DIVORCE

Mrs. Gertrude Seymour Is Granted Final Decree

Memories of a summer vacation spent among the hills near Los Gatos by Mrs. Gertrude Seymour, wife of a Washington street merchant while her husband was in the army, attending to his business, were revived today when Mrs. Seymour was granted a final decree of divorce from Eugene E. Seymour on the grounds of cruelty.

While his wife was away, Seymour declared in his answer to the complaint, he had read in a morning newspaper of a reported marriage of "Jeanette Seymour" of Oakland to one William Proll, a wealthy real estate man of Piedmont. The husband's suspicions were at once aroused and on investigating he discovered that his wife had been keeping company with Proll at Los Gatos, but that they had not in fact been married. When she returned home he accused her of the same and their quarrel finally led to her bringing a suit for divorce.

In her complaint Mrs. Seymour charged that her husband had paid too close attention to his store cash-ier. Once when she rang up the young woman on the telephone and accused her she said that the reply had been that Seymour cared more for his employee than he did for his wife. Her divorce was brought in November, 1912, and this was made final today by Superior Judge Wager upon application of Attorneys Rose and Silverstein, who represented the plaintiff.

REGULATION OF SOCIAL EVIL DIES OUT

Police Control Declared in a Report to Be Failure in Europe.

White Slavery Stamped Out, However; Segregation Found Nowhere.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(By Associated Press) A personal investigation in eleven European countries, Abraham Flexner, contended by the bureau of social hygiene, of which John D. Rockefeller Jr. is chairman, has come to the conclusion that police regulation of the social evil in Europe is a failure and is rapidly dying out. Stringent legislation, on the other hand, has practically stamped out the so-called white slave traffic in young girls, and segregation, he finds, is non-existent anywhere in England or on the continent.

These views, upsetting beliefs widely current in this country as to the status of commercialized vice in the Old World, were set forth in a 450-page volume issued today.

"Sex education," says Dr. Flexner, "is the subject of as much controversy in Europe as in this country. Despite the prevalent notion to the contrary," he writes, "the subject of sex education is as yet very largely in the realms of theory or controversy."

Explaining the decline in the systematic traffic in young girls, the social details investigator states in his report that due to popular agitation in late years, and asserts that the entrapping and impuring of a girl may be classed as the exception, like a mysterious murder or robbery.

"Under existing conditions," he says, "there is absolutely no reason to think that such cases are decreasing, though there are those who would be quick to take advantage of any relaxation of vigilance on the part of governments, the police and the private organizations constantly on the alert. In the cases to which, from our own experience, attention has been called, the women involved are neither innocent nor deceived."

While public opinion is slowly changing for the better, Flexner believes, he still finds that there is no social inhibition as regards immorality in man. "Europe has been a man's world," he writes, "managed by men and largely for men—and cynical men at that—men distinctly lacking in respect for womanhood, especially of the working classes. The military, aristocracy, the student, are all conceded their thing. Women whose influence might have been exerted restrain have been trained not to pry into the pre-matrimonial records of their husbands; fathers fashion their sons, as a rule, after their own image."

The volume treats at length of the inscribed or registered women of various European cities, living under police license, and brands the system a failure. Only a fraction of these women are enrolled.

The licensed house, Flexner says, public opinion in Europe is becoming increasingly hostile. "At the present time," he says, "they are permitted in France, Belgium, Austria-Hungary and Italy; forbidden in the German empire, Holland, Switzerland (except in the case of the Dutch), Norway and Sweden and Great Britain."

On the whole, Flexner is of the opinion that regulation of any sort is calculated to increase the volume of immorality. Compulsory medical attendance is scored severely. Not only is it far from thorough, but by insisting on the male a belief in its efficiency, it robs dissipation of one of its greatest terrors and thus increases vice.

PART OF LARGER PROBLEM. In concluding, Flexner says our attitude toward the social evil, insofar as these factors are concerned, cannot embody itself in a special remedial or repressive policy for in this sense it must be dealt with as part of the larger social problems with which it is inextricably entangled.

"Civilization has stripped for a life and death struggle with tuberculosis. Alcohol and other vices are on the verge of a similar struggle with the crasser forms of commercialized vice. Sooner or later it must fling down the gauntlet to the whole terrible thing. This will be the real contest—a contest that will tax the courage, the self-denial, the faith, the resources of humanity to their utmost."

PALACE HOTEL GUEST IS SUICIDE

Young Man Shoots Self; Body Is Discovered in Bathroom.

D. H. Swain, Who Ends Life. Has Uncle of Business Prominence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—In a sumptuous apartment at the Palace Hotel, with a pistol clutched in his right hand and a bullet hole in his temple, Donald H. Swain, believed to be a nephew of William A. Wyatt, general manager of Bradstreet's, New York, was found a suicide last night. Great secrecy was maintained regarding the case, although there was considerable excitement among the guests.

Swain, who was about 25 years old, came here from Los Angeles and registered at the hotel on Wednesday. He kept much to himself and little was known about him. Yesterday the chambermaid was unable to gain entrance to his room as the door was locked to the apartment, using a specially made key. Together with the Palace special officer, Krandall, and several attaches, Rich entered and found Swain dead in the bathroom. Dr. Julius M. Walker, the house physician, was called in and found that Swain had been dead for more than twelve hours.

Swain had evidently killed himself because of lack of funds. Among his effects was a letter addressed to him at 1020 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles. It was written by Clark A. Coaling of the firm of Mahama & Coaling, Consolidated Realty building, Los Angeles, bore the date of December 15 and informed Swain that since he was in the realty office Coaling had heard of a good position which he thought the young man might be able to fill.

Preliminary Hearing of Finley Next Wednesday

The preliminary arraignment of W. A. Finley and Antonio Arnetta, who ran down and killed Summer Black of Irvington last Saturday night while driving an automobile, will be held Wednesday before Judge Wamsley at Irvington. The coroner's jury has charged Finley, who admitted that he was at the wheel of the car, with murder. The preliminary hearing will probably result in the charge being reduced to manslaughter. Charges against both men of leaving a victim lying in the roadway will be pressed by District Attorney Hynes. Bert Cook, who was with Black at the time of accident, testified before the coroner's jury that the automobile was traveling in a zig-zag course along the road when it struck the youth on his motorcycle.

"Let me in or I'll fix you," he thundered.

He shipped as cook's mate from San Francisco on the five-master R. C. Rickmers and landed at New Castle, N. S. W., Australia. He walked through Australia, the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, China, India, Egypt, Palestine and Europe, arriving in Philadelphia last Tuesday.

Belle Will Wed Despite Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—With the two evils of an operation for appendicitis and a postponed wedding to choose between, Miss Vera de Sabla finds that her superstition makes her prefer the latter rather than the shadow of the deferred marriage. She will get married, Miss de Sabla will become the bride of Herbert Payne February 3, at an elaborate wedding at the De Sabla country place at Belton.

Dr. John Galloway has decided that Miss de Sabla's recent illness is due to her appendix, and with the surgeon's thought for her physical well-being he demanded an immediate operation.

But Miss de Sabla told him what she thought of postponing a wedding. So, Dr. Galloway has consented to wait until the marriage is celebrated, but within a few days after the event the operation takes place.

Unemployed Rioters Appear in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—William Thoren and four other members of the unemployed army held to answer for rioting, appeared before Superior Judge Cabanis today on a writ of habeas corpus. Lister argued in support of the motion and the court seemed inclined to his view of the case. He has continued the hearing until next Tuesday, when the district attorney will reply.

McCreery Likes After Treatment

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Emerging from a Turkish bath establishment last this morning Richard S. McCreery said: "I enjoyed it very much."

He referred to the boiling oil he had been subjected to and not to the questionable pleasures of the "fire days" forced stay in the county jail, whither he was sent after Judge McCall sentenced him for driving his automobile at an excessive rate of speed.

The millionaire's time expired last midnight.

The automobile was waiting and he lost no time in saying "Home, James."

Painfully Injured in Crash on Nob Hill

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—On the summit of Nob Hill, where a special signal station has been maintained, two cable cars, one packed with passengers, crashed this morning, and Oscar Zeigler, 39 years old, was painfully injured. That a number of those who stood on the steps of the California street car were not injured was due to the fact that the brakes held despite the slippery rails and while both cars were badly smashed they were not thrown far from the tracks.

It took several hours to clear the cable lines for traffic.

St. Louis Wants to Put Out Redlights

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Immediate action was taken by the board of police commissioners by a delegation of fifteen members of the committee of one hundred for the suppression of commercialized vice.

ROBS TRAIN; SHERIFF HIT IN DUEL IN DULL

Lone Thug Makes Clean Up From Passengers

Panic Occurs When Firing Begins; Posse Seeks Robber

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17.—Holding up the passengers of a Western & Atlantic Pullman car, throwing the entire car into a panic by firing wild shots among the passengers, in a revolver duel with Sheriff C. C. Heard, who was slightly wounded in the encounter, and robbing every occupant of the chair car, a bold bandit last night escaped at Belton, near this city, with $300 in money and jewelry taken from the passengers.

The man, who had started operations after the manner of Farish, the California bandit, met with trouble when the sheriff boarded the train at Belton. The officer at once opened fire on the robber, who replied with a fusillade of bullets, most of them fired at random, and then dropped from the train, disappearing in the fields. A man roughly tugging his description was later arrested, but could not be identified.

The bandit entered the train at Vining, twelve miles from Atlanta. Starting at the front of the chair car he rapidly worked his way toward the rear, each passenger of valuables at the point of his revolver. Arrived at Belton, a suburb, he prepared to alight when the sheriff boarded the train and attempted to arrest him.

The man, who was at the end of the car and there turned and fired. One of the bullets struck the officer on the cheek, inflicting a flesh wound. While the robber fled wildly about the car, the passengers threw themselves to the floor and under seats and the sheriff and the robber fired over them. The bandit then dropped from the train and disappeared into the darkness.

At present, no one is searching the neighborhood in search of the man.

(By Associated Press) MONTEREY, Cal., Jan. 17.—The smuggling launch Calypso, from Ensenada, Mexico, landed last night on the shores of the bay here and three white men manning her were arrested.

The men, who are named as Fred Fox, Morris Pettenger and David Main. They were taken to the Salinas jail.

While in the act of securing his day's receipts in a small tin box under his counter in the little grocery store at 528 San Pablo avenue, L. T. Youton, proprietor of the place, heard a noise above him. He looked up and saw the shadow of a man's head over the shelves.

Running out into the rear yard, Youton arrived in time to see a man drop from the roof of a shed, adjusting his coat and escape in the darkness. The police were notified, but failed to capture the man. Youton believes that the man was watching to see where he secreted his savings.

WOMAN, 55, BRIDE FOR TENTH TIME

Advertises for Husband; Gets Kentucky Man of 72 Years

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 17.—The long-distance matrimonial records of Mrs. Mary A. Dyer, 55, of Farnell, Mo., who has just been married for the tenth time, the bridegroom is a parcel post requisition obtained through a matrimonial advertisement.

Though it is the bride's tenth time to the altar, the bridegroom, James Dyer, of Cuttawba, Ky., is her eighth husband. She has been married to seven other men, the first being a man named Smith, who was killed in the war.

She has been married to seven other men, the first being a man named Smith, who was killed in the war. She has been married to seven other men, the first being a man named Smith, who was killed in the war.

WEDS THE SECOND SMITH

Following his death, she was married to Carpenter Smith, who was no relation to her first husband, George Smith. She obtained a divorce from him in a short time they were remarried. Again they disagreed, and again they were divorced.

This time the period of separation was longer, and Mrs. Smith went on a visit where she married James H. Hill. Hill did not live long, and after his funeral his widow returned to the old neighborhood.

Again she and Smith decided to live together. She went through the same process for the second time she was married, and for the third time to Carpenter Smith. They lived together happily until his death.

Mrs. Smith's eighth marriage was to Fred Moonan, also of near St. Anthony. The couple lived together until Moonan died.

After Moonan's death, Mrs. Moonan left St. Anthony, and the next year she was married to William Brown. Brown died a year later.

AD. AS LAST RESORT

She was fond of children, and during one of her former marriages she had adopted two small girls, whom she reared to womanhood. But they are now married and gone. So she advertised for a husband.

She received several answers. Then came the correspondence with James H. Hill, of Cuttawba, Ky., the exchange of photographs, the meeting, the tenth marriage.

"You don't look like your picture," Mr. Dyer frankly told her after he had given her a critical inspection.

"Don't you think so?" she answered smiling. "I don't care. I don't want you anywhere by yours." That settled it, and they made their way to the courthouse, where the marriage ceremony was performed.

Mr. Dyer recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday anniversary. This is his third marriage. His former wives are dead. His only child, a son, is principal of a school at Riverside, Cal., and the other is a minister in Albuquerque, N. M.

WOMAN NEGLECTS HER AGED FATHER

Judge Orders Arrest of Ungrateful Daughter of Once Prosperous Farmer

DENVER, Jan. 17.—"How shameless than a serpent's tooth. It is to have a daughter who neglects her aged father," said Judge Peckham in his decision in the case of the Peckham family.

Fifty years ago Francis Marion Peckham, a wealthy farmer in Indiana, bought a fat fat girl and his knee and a little girl. When Peckham died his spine was so weak that he could not get up without the aid of his daughter, who was then a young girl.

Peckham was 50 years old January 16 and his mind is not as alert as in his old days. Yesterday he wrote to a cousin, Mr. John Peckham, of Chicago, a letter in which he said that he was a poor man and that he was in need of money.

For a long time the aged man had been living with his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Peckham, 250 West Ninth street, who is a widow and found herself unable to make a living for herself and father. So she was compelled to let her home and go out to find whatever work she could.

OLD LAW TO COMPEL SUPPORT

Mrs. Wolf is the wife of Martin Wolf, who owns a hotel at Arroyo, Colo. After her arrest she was released on bonds.

Mrs. Wolf has been summoned to the district attorney's office before and ordered to make proper provision for her father's care. She claimed that there was no law to compel her to support her father, but, although it is not generally known, there is such a law in the Colorado statutes.

TOWN GRUBSTAKES FOUR STRANDED CHORUS GIRLS

LAMAR, Mo., Jan. 17.—Four little telephone girls who left New York in the chorus of the "Soul Kiss" company two months ago anticipated lobster, champagne, "Johnnies" and other things. But after a month of "one-nighters" they began to miss their friends in the city.

When the company disbanded here last Monday they lost all interest in lobster and began to have a kindly feeling for bread. In fact, they had eighteen cents between them when they were stranded.

Then the members of the county court were informed of this plight. They are proprietors of the Citizens of the town took a collection and tonight Sheriff Ewing took the girls to the hotel and handed each of the girls a ticket to New York and $5. They left on the Princeton river, promising to stick to the switchboard now until matrimony intervenes.

'CALIFORNIA DRY'
BEGINS CAMPAIGNStatewide Propaganda Has
Support of Various Temperance Orders.

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—With the united support of all various temperance organizations, the executive committee of the "California Dry in 1914 Movement" announced yesterday that it had begun the campaign throughout the state. Fred E. Wheeler, chairman of the headquarters committee, said last night that Dr. A. C. Bain, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Northern California, and Dr. Ervin S. Chapman, superintendent of the southern California branch of the same organization, had announced that they would work heartily for the amendment which will be voted upon at the election next November.

"The Anti-Saloon League doubted the wisdom of starting a dry campaign this year," said Wheeler, "but the people have shown their initiative petitions to place liquor upon the ballot, left them, according to their own statements, nothing to do but get in and work for it."

Mr. Wheeler said that the prohibition forces were being marshaled in every county of the state for a vigorous campaign.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN
ILL. COMMITS SUICIDE

DENVER, Jan. 17.—Dr. G. R. Foll, a prominent physician of Cleveland, Ohio, last night shot himself through the mouth at his residence here. Death was instantaneous. Dr. Foll and his family came to Denver two months ago because of the physician's ill health. Instead of improving, he seemed to grow worse, and tonight, while his wife was in an adjoining room, ended his life, choosing suicide to lingering illness.

KING FAVORS SUFFRAGE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 17.—King Gustave of Sweden, in his speech from the throne to the Swedish parliament, which he opened in person yesterday, announced the intention of the government again to ask parliament to grant to women the franchise and the right of election to office, and to parliament on the same conditions as are enjoyed by men.

Keep the Kidneys Well

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Oakland People Know How to Save It.

Many Oakland people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt:

Henry Haas, Castro st., Hayward, Cal., says: "For some time my kidneys were weak. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and caused no end of annoyance. A friend spoke so highly of Doan's Kidney Pills that later, when I saw them advertised, I was led to get a supply. They quickly removed the trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Dr. Haas had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FARMERS HOLD POTATOES;
PRICE DOES AVIATION ACT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Unusually high prices prevail in the potato markets because the farmers this year are holding a larger proportion of this vegetable than was held in the last four years in the belief that they will profit by a future rise in prices, according to a statement today by the department of agriculture. The supply, however, is said to be normal and the conditions do not forecast any material advance in prices.

In consequence of the firm holding of the potato by producers of Maine, Wisconsin and Minnesota—important producing states—the price on December 1 was about 17½ cents a bushel higher than a year ago and 16½ cents higher than three years ago.

The department estimates that about 42.1 per cent of the marketable supply of potatoes of the 1913 crop remained in the hands of farmers and 9.5 per cent in the hands of dealers on January 1 in the important potato-growing states.

WOULD PUT CITY
ON MUSICAL MAPDirector Woods Urges Pupils to Make Showing at 1915 Fair.

The choral societies and orchestra of the Oakland High school held a rehearsal last night in preparation for the 1915 Fair.

Director Glenn Woods spoke to the student body in part as follows:

"There is more in the Oakland High school than we are receiving. The reputation of the school is a thousand miles from here. We have a chorus of but 140 voices and an orchestra of but 15 pieces. The proportion is too small. We should have at least 200 more girls and 100 additional boys, who that orchestra should be twice its present size."

The school board has expended the sum of $5000 in musical instruments for various orchestras connected with the schools of the city. We have been unpacking them today. One of these instruments alone cost the sum of $235, and because these instruments are too expensive for our school system, and because the school board has seen fit to purchase them for you, you should at least co-operate with them and help to build up the reputation and make it a State-wide feature so that everyone will point to the choral and musical achievements of the Oakland High school.

"At the World's Fair in 1915 your school system has been called upon to demonstrate three subjects. First, gymnastics and athletic training; second, manual training; third, music. The world will be here; the world will have its eyes upon us and we must set a standard and live up to it, but you must help."

'WONDER BOOK' AGAIN
MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

The Wonder Book, which is the World Almanac and Encyclopedia, has made its annual appearance. It is complete from the new tariff, the income tax and the currency bill to the final baseball score, and from the latest news of the state of the woman suffrage movement.

There is no other Almanac like the Wonder Book. The standing features of the book are fully present, as usual—the election returns, the population tables, the statistics of cities, of crops, of colleges, of industries, of churches, of everything that exists and grows. There are the expected and valued features of the year in art, literature and the drama. There are lists of trusts and of millionaires and the condensed family tree of distinguished Americans. There are the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence and the platforms of political parties. There are a year's chronology and a year's calendar, besides time tables of great events in years past. And there are other things which it would take an almanac of ordinary size to contain, but which the Wonder Book has more than a thousand pages—just to mention.

A book so constituted as a veritable volume of reference, of facts and figures. But this is no case of rote storage of records and other truths that the World's Almanac presents are warm with living and immediate interest, with relevance to the time, place and point directly at hand.

particular and par excellence. Where it is needed for instance, in the classroom, there is a volume which any reader, student or man of affairs must sometimes find. Containing the World's encyclopedia, it is a volume of reference, of facts and figures, of the progress since the days when an almanac served chiefly to tell the calendar days, the phases of the moon and the state of the tides.

FACTORY OPERATORS
MUST BE REGISTERED

Announcement was made today by State Labor Commissioner John P. McLaughlin that a number of firm throughout the state had as yet failed to register with the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the year 1914. The law passed at the last session of the legislature, thereby placing the burden of a misdemeanor charge. All factories, workshops, other manufacturing establishments in which five or more persons are employed, were supposed to have registered with the Bureau of Labor Statistics by January 1 of this year. However, the fact that many firms are not acquainted with the law, has brought to the attention of the Commissioner the need of a fine not to exceed $200 or imprisonment not to exceed more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

GREAT SALE OF
JEWELRY AT AUCTION

Planning to retire from the Oakland field, the United Import Jewelry Company, of the famous "Jewelry Palace" jobbing firms on the coast, has announced that its entire Oakland stock is to be sold at auction. The sale will take place at the company's retail store at 1204 Washington street.

The officers of the firm declare that need of money to take over the full ownership of the property is the reason for the sale. The firm believes that this method of getting rid of a heavy stock, even at a loss, is better than holding the goods until they are worthless.

ANGLO-SAXON AMITY IS LUNCHEON CLUB THEME

LOANING, Jan. 17.—Senator J. Hamilton McMillan, of the United States House of Representatives, and the Hon. J. McMillan, a prominent Radical member of the House of Commons, former Parliamentary Secretary of the British Admiralty, were the guests of the American Luncheon Club yesterday, when Mr. McMillan spoke of the good relations between the United States and Great Britain.

Senator Lewis took as the text of his speech "The American Citizen Abroad." He said that the American citizen should be conscious of his power but with no pretense of bluster.

And Country Club Heights is right on Broadway—just ten minutes from "downtown." It is the last available property on the College Avenue line. There're just 100 lots in this tract. When Country

'ANNUAL' RECEIVES
WIDE APPROVAL

Citizens of County Give Enthusiastic Commendation of Edition.

William S. Cox, Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, Oakland had something to say of the Oakland TRIBUNE ANNUAL.

The book covers every phase of progress that the city has had in the past year. It has given all of the points of interest that the public is interested in.

It is a book that you could send home to the old folks and to your friends to show them how the weather treats the residents of Oakland the year round. No home is complete without a copy of the TRIBUNE ANNUAL.

CREDIT TO COUNTY.

G. W. Bacon, County Recorder: The Annual is a very fine edition this year and a credit both to the publishers and the county at large.

SHOWS GROWTH.

Charles K. Clark, Chief County Auditor: I have read the Annual through and come to the conclusion that it could not have been improved in any way. It shows completely the growth and resources of Alameda county.

INTERESTING AND EDUCATING. J. J. Rose, Attorney-at-Law: The Annual is interesting and instructing as it deals with the whole county. It is a fine edition to send out on account of the many excellent illustrations.

SHOWS OAKLAND THE YEAR ROUND. Henry Vogt, Secretary of the Park Commission: The Annual that has been published by the OAKLAND TRIBUNE is one of the best that has been distributed to the citizens of Oakland.

It is one of the most instructive and interesting books that could be put into the hands of the people. It is a complete work without it having a prominent place therein. The books show Oakland as it is, the year round; its parks and beautiful drives and prosperity and in every way.

The magazine is one that shows the growth of Oakland both by water and rail. And I can say that no home in the state of California is complete without a copy of THE TRIBUNE ANNUAL.

George B. Dickie, Secretary of the Playground Commission: THE TRIBUNE ANNUAL is one of the best publications that has been circulated in years.

IS CHILD CROSS,
FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, their bowels, tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold has sore throat, stomach-ache, or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of cheap imitations sold here. Get the genuine made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.
